CONGRESS.

AFTER some preliminary sparring between members the Senate on the 21st took up the bill to transfer the revenue marine service from the Treasury to the Navy Department, which was laid aside at two o'clock and the tariff bill taken up and Senator Voorhees addressed the Senate in opposition to the bill. When Mr. Voorhees concluded Senator Cockrell announced the death of Representative Walker, of Missouri. Resolutions were agreed to, a committee appointed to attend the funeral and the Senate adjourned.

Soon after the House met the death of Representative Walker was announced and resolutions of respect offered and adopted. A committee was appointed to attend the funeral and the House adjourned.

IN the Senate on the 21st a bill was reported and placed on the calendar giving the widow of General Fremont a pension of $1,000 a year. The Indian Appropriation bill was then considered at length, about half of it being disposed of, and after passing the bill for the disposal of the Fort Ellis military reservation and another local bill the Senate adjourned. Immediately after the adjournment the House voted to begin on the Original Package bill. The Adams substitute, defining original packages, was lost by a vote of 35 yeas to 173 nays. When a vote was taken on the House substitute for the Senate (or Wilson) bill it was very close, having but one majority on the first call, but changes were made and the final vote was 113 yeas to 96 nays, and the bill as amended passed by a vote of 126 yeas to 88 nays, parties here being entirely ignored.

A conference was asked and the House agreed to consider the bill until adjournment. The Original Package bill as passed provides that whenever any article of commerce is imported into any State from any other State, Territory or foreign nation, and there is a duty on such article, the same shall then be subject to the laws of such State. Provided, that no discrimination shall be made by any State in favor of its citizens against those of other States and Territories in respect to the sale of any article of commerce, nor in favor of its own products, against those of like character produced in other States or Territories. Nor shall the transportation of commerce through any State be obstructed, except for the necessary enforcement of the health laws of such State.

THE session of the Senate on the 23d was devoted entirely to further consideration of the Indian Appropriation bill. The Bankruptcy bill occupied the attention of the House and it was not completed at adjournment.

WHEN the Senate met on the 24th Senator Morgan introduced a bill to fix the limit of value and to provide for the free coinage of silver, which was referred. It provides that the value of the United States shall be the dollar of 423 grains of standard silver or 25 9/16 grains of gold, which shall be a legal tender for all debts, and that any owner of gold or silver bullion may deposit it at any mint to be coined for his benefit free of charge.

THE Indian Appropriation bill was further debated and finally passed. Senator Voorhees introduced a bill by request of the Labor Alliance, to secure freedom of trade, speech and the press and asked that it be printed in the Record, to which Senator Sherman objected, as being unusual. The tariff bill then came up as unfinished business and the Senate adjourned. The House spent the day in further considering the Bankruptcy bill. When a vote was reached the substitute known as the Voluntary Bankruptcy bill was rejected and the Tabor bill passed by 117 yeas to 84 nays, and the House adjourned.

WHEN the Senate met on the 25th petitions were presented from various parts of the country protesting against the passage of the Federal Election bill. Senator Blair presented a memorial from a G. A. R. post expressing abhorrence at the action of Congress in allowing agents a fee of $10 under the dependent Pension bill. A motion to proceed with the tariff bill was antagonized with a motion to proceed with the Marine bill, which prevailed, and that bill was considered until one o'clock when the tariff bill was taken up and debated until adjournment.
